

Kandie Haymore, CCE

Credit Manager
Geneva Rock Products

Hello! I am Kandie Haymore, I have been in credit for over 12 years. When I started my journey to be a credit manager I was in an entry level job and kept being passed over for any kind of promotions. I was approached by the credit manager to be her assistant. She told me about the credit education classes and that she saw great potential in me. I have always been so grateful she started me on this path. As soon as I got my CBA I was offered a job as a credit manager thanks to a referral from a friend I had been in the classes with.

I only needed someone to take a chance on me, 10 years later I have my CCE and head up credit for 3 of Clyde Companies subsidiaries. I am so grateful for the opportunities I have been given thanks to NACM. I like to encourage anyone needing a career to take advantage of what the designation classes have to offer.

When I am not being a credit manager superhero, I enjoy golfing with my husband, traveling to explore different sand dunes with my family and glamping. I owe so much of where I am today to NACM; the support and comradery we have in our affiliate is unmatched. I would like the opportunity to serve on the board, and in a small way give back to an organization that has given me so much.
